Winners of Dell'Osso Farms Baconfest Amateur Cooking Contest Hosted by Food Network's Jeff Mauro "Hit the Road" with Fusion Food Truck

Customers can grab the award-winning food on the streets of Stockton

Stockton, CA, November 8, 2017: Maria and Eric Carey, winners of the 2017 Dell'Osso Farms Baconfest amateur cooking contest, are taking their award-winning food and sense of community to the streets of Stockton. Waffle Craves is more than southern chicken and waffles food truck. Much like its owners, it's a fusion of culture-craves from around the world. Smoked ribs with homemade honey-butter cornbread waffles. Slow-cooked Mexican carnitas sandwiches. Cuban black bean and mojo. How about garlic & basil pizza waffles with creamy pesto drizzle? They'll be serving up seasonal sweet craves as well. (Think pumpkin pie waffle with cranberry sauce drizzle and spiced whip.) They'll even be launching a scholarship/paid internship, teaching local culinary students how to start their own business in Stockton. The truck hits the streets in early 2018. Keep up with them at www.wafflecraves.com.
